NEWTON
CROUCH

PERFECT FOR GROWTH-MINDED FARMERS.

Since our inception, Newton Crouch has been perfecting our pull type spreaders. Our engineers have listened to customers and watched trends within the industry to develop a Row Crop Spreader that is built tough and can be tailor made for a broad range of crops. Whether you need to spoon-feed nitrogen, sow cover crop, or spread lime, the Row Crop Series provides combo units that cover a variety of spreading needs within one spreader.

“Newton Crouch spreaders consistently give me a more accurate application, and with my acreage, that saves me both time and money.”

TAILOR BUILT FOR YOU.

For the last forty years, the Model 49 Row Crop has been the Spreader of Choice. With a fully supported hopper, wide conveyor chain, and medium ground clearance, the Model 49 has the most repeat buyers of any Newton Crouch Spreader.

Here at Newton Crouch, we understand that not all drive systems, wheel centers, tires, and sprocket combos are ideal for all operations. Tailor your equipment to have the features you need and none you don't so that you can feel confident that your spreader will add value to your operation for years to come.
